NINE MILLIONS GO OVER THE BAR.

What it Costs to Run the 720 Saloons of Louisville for Twelve Months.

AVERAGE EXPENSE IS $8,500.

The final payments at the Sinking Fund office show that there are 720 saloons in Louisville, licensed until August 1, 1909.

Each of these saloons pays to the city $500 a year, and therefore the city has collected from the retail liquor business, $360,000.

The Evening Post has made a very careful inquiry, extending over several weeks, into the cost of simply the running expenses of the saloons of Louisville, aided by a retired saloon keeper of Louisville, who has operated a saloon in four different places, has also consulted officials of the Central Consumers Company and more than a dozen saloon keepers.

As a result of the most careful examination the Evening Post finds that the cost of running these 720 saloons ranges from $4,000 at the most ordinary corner grocery to something over $70,000 a year at the Seelbach Hotel.

The average cost for each of the 720 saloons in Louisville, carefully estimated, is $8,500 a year.

Therefore the money to be collected in the city of Louisville by the 720 saloons must be $6,460,000 before the saloons can make anything. As a decided majority of the saloons make handsome profits, a total revenue is taken in over the bars of the saloons of Louisville of not less than $9,000,000 a year.

Skyscraper to Cost a Million Will Be Built.

One million dollars will be disbursed by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in the construction of permanent headquarters in Cleveland, O. It will be the first skyscraper in the United States put up by organized labor. The building is to be 12 stories high with an auditorium big enough for from 1,600 to 1,800 people, to be used for engineers' meetings and entertainment. It is proposed to fit out the roof with park seats, rugs and palms.

DEATH RATE IS SHOWN.

Number of Persons Dying as Result of Consumption.

Startling figures as to the spread of the "White Plague" will be presented at the International Congress on Tuberculosis which is to meet in Washington this month. Every thirty-six minutes there is a death from consumption in the State of New York, or 40 each day, or 1200 each month, or 14,400 each year, in only one State.

Wright Goes Through the Air At a Wonderful Speed--Absolute Control of His Machine.

At Ft. Meyer, Va., Orville Wright made the two greatest aeroplane flights ever made publicly in this country when he remained in the air over 11 minutes on his first flight and nearly eight on the second on September 8.

Throughout both flights Wright apparently had the machine under perfect control, rising at times to 60 feet and making sharp turns.

Sweeping to earth like a giant eagle, the machine was brought down by Wright within thirty feet of the starting apparatus, having made 13 complete circles of the field in 11 minutes and 10 seconds.

Wright started for the second attempt. On one trip around the field he flew over the stables which line it on one side, and again on another round he flew over the "Aerial Garage" where the aeroplane is housed.

After eight circles of the field Wright brought his machine down. It was estimated that Wright covered 64 miles in the first flight at an average of 36 miles an hour and on the second flight 44 miles.

Forty-fifth Annual Vacation

Prof. Charles Louis Loos, of Transylvania University, Lexington, returned home Wednesday from Orchard Lake, Mich., where he has spent the summer. Prof. Loos has visited this resort for the last forty-five years, having a cottage there. Despite his age, about 82, Prof. Loos enjoys the outing. Every morning he takes a plunge and swim in the lake and spends the day fishing and sailing and rowing.

Lexington is to be visited in October by one of its favorite circus, The Ringling Brothers. Ringling's circus is said to be bigger and better than ever and has made a great hit with Eastern cities. Their advance agent closed a contract with Russell Bros. for eight tons of hay, six tons of straw, 2,000 pounds of bran and 300 bushels of corn and oats. This is one of the largest feed contracts ever given to a Lexington firm.

Bryan Will Speak in Cincinnati September 24.

We have received the following: It gives me pleasure to state that Hon. W. J. Bryan will speak in Cincinnati on the evening of September 24, at Music Hall, at 8 o'clock.

We expect a great crowd as the capacity of Music Hall is about 8,000 and it is very probable that we will have an overflow meeting.

We would be very much pleased to have you or a representative of your paper present and if you decide to come, I will thank you to advise me so advance tickets that I may send you stage tickets.

Yours very truly,
JOHN L. SCHUFF,

Automobiles and Shotguns.

Our plan is to give our police automobiles and double-barreled shotguns, to enable two or more of them to pass half a dozen times in the night nearly every house in town and stop wherever they see a signal in regard to criminals.

We have great confidence that our plan, with its trained police dogs similar to those now largely used in European cities and towns, will be adopted by thousands of towns in the United States and elsewhere.—Our Dumb Animals.

To the editor of the Lexington Herald:

While in my wanderings through the old cemetery at Concord, Mass., where the great and worthy men of Boston are buried I was struck with a most noble inscription on the tomb of one of Boston's honored sons, John Frisbie Hoar. I ask you may favor your readers with a copy of it in your valuable paper.

The inscription is this:

"I have no faith in fatalism, in destiny, in blind force. I believe in God, the Living God. I believe in the American people, a free and brave people who do not bow the neck or bend the knee to any other and who desire no other to bow the neck or bend the knee to them. I believe that a republic is greater than an empire. I believe finally whatever clouds may darken the horizon that the world is growing better; that today is better than yesterday, and that tomorrow will be better than today." Your friend,

OTIS S. TENNEY.

Goes to Canada and Writes of Its Form of Government and The Liberties it Extends

[Editor Sun-Sentinel, Winchester.]

A travel of some three thousand miles in the Dominion of Canada gave us an opportunity to learn much of that wonderful country, its government and the inhabitants.

Canada has a government form like ours, without the things that has given us trouble. What we call a State is a Province in Canada. The central government establishes the lines and there is no such thing as a dispute over State rights. If a crime is committed, any civil officer can arrest the party charged with it, anywhere.

The Governor General is appointed by the Crown, assisted by the Cabinet. The members of the Senate are appointed by the Governor General and serve for life. They are selected without regard to politics and are men who as a rule have large experience and have demonstrated their fitness for the exalted position.

Every Act must be approved by the Senate before it becomes a law. Members of Parliament and the House of Commons are elected by the qualified voters. The Lieutenant Governor of each Province is appointed by the Governor General. All Judges are appointed. Should an appointee be found unworthy, he is removed without ceremony. A municipality corresponds to our county divisions, with the executive officers elected by the people. In cities the same rule prevails. There is no such thing as intimidation in elections. A Judge that would take part in a political contest or render a biased decision would be removed at once. The laws of Canada are enforced. A murderer is hanged, a thief is sent to prison and every criminal is punished according to the degree of his crime. The enforcement of law makes even the criminal element law abiding.

The people are satisfied with their government and are proud to be called British subjects. They know that in all things they have the greatest liberty to do that which is right and that they will be protected in their liberty. They are the most free and independent people that we have known.

Mr. and Mrs. Selron F. Key, of Mayfield, Ky., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Teddie, to Mr. James Crews Rash, of Winchester.

The right of the Board of Council to order pavements laid and to put them in if the property owner fails has been settled by the highest State court.

The City Schools opened with about 650 pupils in the white schools and 275 in the colored schools. This is far short of the census enrollment.

B. Tassell and Stanley J. Roberts, of South Bend, Ind., are here organizing the Order of Owls, a new order organized in 1904.

Messrs. Bloomfield, Piersall and Jones will erect three handsome three-story brick business houses on the Stablefield lot.

The sale of S. C. Carpenter's Tennessee and Virginia Jersey milk cows at Taylor's stock yards was attended by a large crowd and lively bidding. Thirty-six cows and calves were sold, bringing from $40 to $107.50.

Russell, the ten-year-old son of Thomas Peasley, died after suffering for two weeks, caused by a rusty nail being stuck in his foot.

Winchester is to have a daily paper. I am a stockholder in the company. The Sun-Sentinel will continue as in the past, a Republican paper, but with no strings tied to it. I subscribed for stock in the daily on the condition that it be independent in politics. I will not be the editor and will in no way attempt to shape its policy. But I am in a position to assure the public that it will be conducted in the interest of the people, as a whole, and not in the interest of any political party or faction.

The Winchester Commercial Club is a live organization. It has contributed much to Winchester's growth and improvement, and in this we may well feel proud of its work.

In a flight in his aeroplane at Fort Myer Wednesday afternoon Orville E. Wright broke his own record made Tuesday morning by remaining in the air 62 minutes and 15 seconds. Secretary of War Wright, Secretary of the Navy Metcalf and other Government officials witnessed the performance. The distance traveled in the record-breaking flight of 62 minutes and 15 seconds was estimated at 38.5 miles.

Don't Wait Till It's Too Late--Follow the Example of a Mt. Sterling Citizen.

Rescue the aching back. If it keeps on aching, trouble comes. Backache is kidney ache. If you neglect the kidneys' warning, Look out for urinary trouble—diabetes.

O. F. Hanna, living at 406 N. Broadway, Lexington, Ky., says: "I have been using Doan's Kidney Pills for some time and have found them to be a valuable kidney remedy. I have not given them a steady trial but when suffering from attacks of backache they have never failed to give me instant relief. For some time before they were brought to my attention, I suffered from severe pains through my back, and many days I was handicapped in performing my work. I had heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that at last I decided to try them and procured a box at Duerson's drug store. From my experience I know that they do all that is claimed for them, and I gladly recommend them to any person suffering from kidney trouble in any of its various forms."

ATTENTION, DEMOCRATS!

There will be a meeting at the Court House on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Bryan-Davis Club of Montgomery County. Democrats from every precinct in the county will be present and the campaign will be full of interest.

If this nation rejects the Lord Jesus Christ, God will reject this nation.

How do Republicans like the Democratic gains in Maine?

Hill is the doom of a man who rejects the Lord Jesus Christ, whether that man be rich or poor, educated or ignorant, high or low.

AN APPEAL.

President Roosevelt has made a public appeal for the election of Mr. Taft. He sees the departure from Mr. Taft has set in, and thus early in the campaign he comes to the rescue. He wishes his own policies carried out. This appeal may not help as he expects.

Maine, Republican by 26,216 four years ago; Maine Republican on Monday for about 8,000. Democrats are leading. Mr. Bryan says:

"I am very much gratified at the results of the Maine elections. They indicate that the trend toward the Democratic party extends over the whole country; they encourage Democrats to believe that victory in November is certain."

NEVER SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.

We clip this:

"At Springfield on Wednesday after the Illinois State Republican Convention was organized, Speaker J. A. Cannon, of the House, began his address. He eulogized the administration and declared the record of the Republican party was an open book. Referring to union labor, Mr. Cannon said he believed the laboring men should organize, but thought it was wrong for a few leaders to attempt to control the labor vote. Mr. Cannon declared with great emphasis that if he were re-elected to Congress he would never vote for any law that provided a law for one class as against another. The speaker aroused the enthusiasm of the convention when he said: 'This republic of ours is not worth three barrels in the place that burns with fire and brimstone if it has within its borders privileged classes. The law of civilization should spread over all alike.'"

Getting good just before the election. He's scared about the labor vote.

PERSONAL LIBERTY LEAGUES.

Personal Liberty Leagues are being formed in Kentucky for two purposes.

First, the organizers of these leagues insist on a man being free to drink when he pleases, where he pleases and as much as he pleases, regardless of the consequence to himself, to his family, and to society. They stand for "America drunk but free."

The second object of the Personal Liberty League is to assert the right of the gamblers to operate their schemes at the racetrack and to multiply pool-rooms all over the country.

In New York and Kentucky these leagues took shape, as the best form of resistance to the recommendations of Gov. Hughes that the New York Legislature by its acts give force and effect to the constitution of New York State.

In Kentucky some of the people have assumed that for New York to forbid gambling at the racetrack would put in peril our personal liberty of raising fast horses and selling them to Eastern sporting men.

So these organizations are formed to encourage resistance to the law; formed to nullify the law; formed to defy the authorities sworn to enforce the law. Instead of calling themselves Personal Liberty League, they should be called Law Defiance League, but names are given associations to conceal their purposes.—Louisville Post.

"It is to be hoped that the good work of putting out the whiskey traffic in Morgan county, which has been so effectively going on for a while, shall be so continued. And the best, if fact the only possible way to stamp it out is for the people to keep men in office who do not only fight it, but who do not use it as well. To the credit of our present officials in whose hands this matter is, it can be said that Morgan county is practically 'dry.'"

Should not the people think about this matter seriously, and while we do not expose the cause of any individual candidate specially, yet should not these men or others like them, be continued in office, for when the wicked (drunkards) rule the people mourn.—Morgan County Messenger.

If a man by reason of strong drink can not properly or successfully manage his own business, how can he expect to attend to the county's business?

The Marquette Smith Company.

Boston Journal of Education says: "As a reciter Miss Smith is matchless in the delivery of art and the touch of heart-power which she has cultivated in her recitations."

Brooklyn Standard Union says of Marguerite Smith: "She went through and through the very child gamut. She gave flawlessly the characterizations of the four-year-old as well as the awkward fourteen-year-old. Boys and girls seem to stand out in their naturalness and delightfulness. In each word that she uttered she simply swayed the audience, and when she had concluded the people longed for more and more."

Brooklyn Daily Eagle: "The Marguerite Smith Company can be classed as one of the few strictly high grade concert companies. They gave a clean wholesome program, every number being well rendered and enthusiastically received." In Mt. Sterling Oct. 5.

Curtain of Wine Corks.

One of the most fashionable clubs in Berlin has in its upper room a curtain made of champagne corks. Four thousand corks with their silver or gilt covering have been threaded on thin rods decorated with small ribbons and embellished with small copper balls. It gives a very decorative effect at a distance and has the appearance of a Japanese panel. Each cork is from a bottle of champagne costing about a sovereign, so that the curtain represents an expenditure of something like £4,500.

St. James' Day.

According to a saying that has long been current in London, "Whoever goes to St. James' day will never want money." As a result Londoners, under the effect of this old superstition, begin to eat oysters on the 25th of July, instead of waiting for the coming of the first month with the "R." So far as can be ascertained, it makes no difference whether the oysters are eaten raw or cooked.—Circle.

Man's Blundering Reason.

Beasts, birds and insects, even to the minutest and meanest of their kind, act with the unerring province of instinct; man, the while, who possesses a higher faculty, abuses it and therefore goes blundering on. They, by their unconsciousness and unobtrusive obedience to the laws of nature, fulfill the end of their existence; he, in willful neglect of the laws of God, loses sight of the end of his.—Robert Southey.

Useful Tears.

Tears have their use, apart from the crying aspect. The eye requires to be kept clear and clean, and tears perform this duty. A striking example of this is shown when the eye is hurt. It is one common cause to water, and often this natural method of cleansing relieves the pain and removes the cause of the discomfort.

The sale was made to settle the estate of Driesbach, who was assassinated and robbed in the tent of Prince Tiny Mite at the Lexington fair grounds. Tent and paraphernalia went with the pony.

Ivory from Siberia.

Siberia furnishes a large quantity of ivory but the production of it belongs to another age and to a species of animal that does not now exist. The ivory is cut from the tusk of mastodons whose skeletons are found frozen in masses of ice or buried in the mud of Siberian rivers and swamps. The northern portion of the country abounds in extensive bogs. In these are found the tusks of the mastodon. These animals lost their lives by venturing upon a surface that they will not bear their weight.

"In the museum at Tobolsk are numerous specimens of mammoth. When an ice pack breaks down a river bank or floods tear up a frozen marsh or the summer thaw penetrates a little more deeply, some of these antediluvian monsters are very likely to be exposed.

"In many cases the remains are so well preserved with their dark shaggy hair and underwool of reddish brown, their tufted ears and long, curved tusks, that all the aborigines and even some of the Russian settlers persist in the belief that they are specimens of animals which still live, burrowing underground like moles, and which die the instant they are admitted to the light.

Looking Ahead.

Announcing that he was Theodore Roosevelt, a man who later gave his name as Len Crenshaw, of London, Ky., attempted to stab Watc-man Fugit Jones at the Louisville postoffice September 3.

Crenshaw carried a saber, which he brandished as he asked for his mail.

"Who are you?" asked the clerk. "I am Theodore Roosevelt, warden of the stars," was the modest reply.

CIRCUIT COURT

Convened on Monday of last week and adjourned on Saturday till October 2. The term was conspicuous for amount of work accomplished and few convictions.

ACQUITTALS.

Jno. Fay for shooting Lieutell Fasset.

Noble Willoughby for malicious shooting of Geo. Tackett.

John Hamilton for petit larceny.

Albert Bundrant, subordination of perjury.

Anna Lonis and Bud Lonis for abduction.

John Greenwade, grand larceny.

The jury failed to agree in the case against John Hawkins on trial for murder of Horace Kynold in 1895. The defendant is in jail subject to bond of $2500.

CONVICTIONS.

Pete Ferguson, colored, aged about 17 years, for false swearing, sentenced to 1 year in prison. Verdict of jury was set aside to use him as a witness. The man against whom he testified was acquitted.

RELEASED.

R. F. Pieratt on trial for Larceny. Verdict: "We, the jury, find that R. F. Pieratt is of sound mind, and is capable of attending to business."

CIVIL DOCKET.

The only case tried by jury was the suit of B. F. Cockrell vs. Mat Tyler. After testimony was had, the Court gave peremptory instructions for the defendant.

Divorces were granted to B. F. Spiller vs. Mary Spiller; F. M. Cash vs. Sarah V. Cash; Robert Kelly (colored) vs. Grace Kelly.

Other cases will be tried after October 2.

Mrs. Blanche Brashear vs. C. & O. continued till next term.

Plenty of Water.

On Wednesday Lexington had four hundred and eighty million gallons of water in her reservoirs available for pumping, and an un-measured quantity, estimated at one hundred and fifty million gallons, in reserve.

CORRESPONDENCE

STOOPS.

James Hicks, of Salt Well, has moved here.

Sandie T. Rudder was at Grassy Lick on Sunday.

Sid Hart sold a pair of mules to Roy Morris for $370.

Hugh McClure, of Nicholas county, was here last week.

Mrs. Walter Hamilton, of Owingsville, was here last week.

Mrs. Bettie Horne and the little child of James Rogers are improving.

Mrs. W. E. Turner and daughter, Miss Mayne, are at Millersburg.

Ed Gorrell and wife have been at the bedside of Mrs. Ann Gorrell, at Mt. Sterling.

Rye that was sown a few weeks ago has perished. Dry weather is badly delaying plowing.

H. A. Lyter and wife and Stanton Hamilton and wife, of Bath, visited Mrs. Ella Hamilton.

J. H. Gillaspie attended Brown and Carpenter's sale of Jersey cows at Winchester. He bought two cows at $80 and $50.

David Moore and wife, Coburn Hamilton and Nick Burns, of Bath, visited Alf. Moore and attended the Woodmen picnic.

Harrison Conn and Bert Saunders, of Bourbon, have rented a farm from N. B. Young. Possession January 1. Will Kissick goes to Bourbon.

Ed. Gorrell's horse frightened at an automobile, ran off and completely ruined buggy and harness. No one was in the buggy. The horse was uninjured.

This is presidential year and the election of a Democratic President is worth more than the success of a county office seeker. Next spring is the time to hold the primary.

A large crowd attended the Woodmen picnic and supper at Judy Wednesday afternoon and night. Everybody seemed to have a good time. Senator Campbell Cantrill spoke on the "Progress and Management of the Society of Equity." The Hon. G. F. Wycoff, of Carlisle, on "The Beauties of Fraternity." The last address was made by Hon. J. W. DeHart, of Louisville, Kentucky State Deputy of the M. W. of A., on "Woodcraft." The Salt Lick band furnished the music.

London's Beggars.
It is calculated that 4,000 persons make a living in London by begging, and that their average income amounts to about 30 shillings a week, or more than $300.00 a year. Last year 1,925 persons were arrested for begging in the streets, of whom more than 1,500 were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from one week to three months. Many of these objects of charity were found in possession of sums of money, and even of handbooks showing very handsome deposits.

Where Women Excel.
A writer in a London paper says that a woman who is a good housekeeper would, if she were a man, be a Kitchener or a Carnegie, so difficult are the requirements of the profession, with its endless string of meals. The writer hints that we are hearing less of more food, and that there is a greater tendency to good, solid, substantial food, with more thought of good things to eat than of the alimentary principles.

A Prayer for the Day.
The day returns and brings us the petty round of irritating concerns and duties. Help us to play the man, help us to perform them with laughter and kind faces; let cheerfulness abound with industry. Give us to go blithely on our business all this day, bring us to our resting beds weary and content and undisturbed, and grant us in the end the gift of sleep. Amen.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Fagin's Kitchen.
Another piece of Dickens' London is being demolished in Fulwood's Rents, Holborn, the shallow basement of which is said to have been the original of Fagin's thieves' kitchen. It was also a resort of Jack Sheppard, and at an earlier date Francis Bacon lived in the building.

Symbol of Wedding Ring.
The old Roman wedding ring was usually of iron, symbolical of the enduring bond, which perhaps explains the supposition of some authorities that it, in olden times, indicated the submission of the wearer, as did the iron ring worn about the neck and ankle.

Talkativeness a Disease.
The curd old doctor who told a nervous patient to stop talking and she would get well was more truthful than polite. There is no doubt that constant talking wastes vitality and wears upon the nervous system. Often one of the first signs of a nervous breakdown is unusual loquaciousness.

First Jewish Cemetery.
Many travelers on the Third and Second avenue elevated railways of New York city wonder how the little cemetery at New Bowers and Oliver street came to be there. It is a remnant of the first Jewish cemetery in the United States and was established in 1656.

Tea a Germ Destroyer.
Tea is now elevated to the dignity of a germ destroyer. Dr. McNaught, the medical investigator, has found that typhoid bacilli placed in cold lukewarm tea are greatly diminished at the end of four hours, and have completely disappeared at the end of 24 hours.

His View of It.
"Dar, now!" exclaimed a Georgia dandy during the eclipse of the sun, "O' Lady Moon done got mad wid 'im, an' done made up her min' ter let 'im know dat he sh'dn't show a warm number after all."—Atlanta Constitution.

Daily Thought.
Children have the effect on your spirit that morning air has on your body. There is no exhaustion in them; they are charged with life and health and sunshine.—R. M. Barham.

The Sound of Thunder.
Spread out the thunder into its single tones, and it becomes a lullaby for children; pour it forth together in one quick peal, and the royal sound shall move the heavens.—Schiller.

By the Window Route.
"Here comes that new author. I know he is going to read his latest story to me. Open the window! Better to fall two stories than hear him read one!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Unselfish Devotion Difficult.
How easy is the thought in certain moods of the loveliest, most unselfish devotion! How hard is the doing of the thought in the face of a thousand difficulties!—George MacDonald.

The Ruling Passion.
"Haven't you any purpose in life?" asked the minister of the melancholy druggist. "No," sighed the druggist, "but I've something just as good!"

In the Light of Fortune.
Fortune displays our virtues and our vices, as light makes all objects apparent.—La Rochefoucauld.

The Truest Breeding.
Whoever makes the fewest persons uneasy is the best bred in the company.—Swift.

Let Him Alone.
Don't be too ready to blame the man who indulges in self-praise. It may be the only kind he ever gets.

Select Your Street.
Streets running north and south have the best health records.

Women as Photographers.
An Englishman says that women make better field photographers than men, as they have that tact and perseverance which wins the confidence of the bird and gives them the opportunity to get photographs of it in natural poses. Any work in connection with natural history ought to be interesting to women, but they do not seem to have the love for it that men have.

How Pensions Grow.
The experience of all countries which have adopted old age pensions is that when once the principle is admitted, further concessions as to amount or age limit follow as a matter of course, and the cost of system grows at a remarkable rate. In New Zealand the annual expenditure on pensions has increased from £157,432 in 1900 to £314,184 in 1907.—Press, Christchurch, New Zealand.

Married and Single.
There is no denying that engaged lovers stand on one platform and married lovers on another. Previous to marriage so little is said about money. There are discussions, there are wranglings, but they are done by proxy, by the lawyers. Once married, however, the principals must talk of money matters between themselves; its management, its disbursement.—London Lady.

Heat in Match's Flame.
The flame of an ordinary match has a much higher temperature than is generally known, and will melt cast iron or steel filings. Try it by striking a match and sprinkle the filings through the flame. Sparks like sparks like gunpowder will be the result of the melting metal.—Popular Mechanics.

Kinematograph in Medicine.
The results which I have obtained with the kinematograph as an aid in the teaching of nervous diseases, and which I have been able to demonstrate at the Middlesex hospital and elsewhere have met with expressions of encouragement from my colleagues and other members of the medical profession.—Lancet.

An Error of the Times.
Among the educators the tendency of the day is to make far too much of the children. One of the most objectionable of sights is to see well-trained, well-mannered little men and women of the world who are treated by their elders as if they were not only equals but superiors.—Country Life.

Century of Shriek.
Politically, socially and morally we are today suffering from the fact that the huge army of degenerates in our midst have a voice in the making of public opinion. The high-pitched voices of the degenerates have marked the twentieth century as "The Century of Shriek"—Black and White.

Cat Photographers.
A young woman looking for rugs told a Broadway salesman that she wanted a shade to match her cat. Speaking of cats, there are photographers in the city who make a specialty of posing cats for pictures. A studio in Harlem has specified hours for posing.—New York Press.

The Next Door Neighbor.
An eastern man has started a humming bird farm, and perhaps we may hear later that the next door neighbor has put up a suite fence and appealed to the police to relieve him from the maddening effects of the constant humming.

Literary Text.
Nearly all the great geniuses lived and died poor; but don't run away with the idea that poverty is a sign of genius. As the late Josh Billings remarked: "It's often a sign of natural-born laziness!"—Atlanta Constitution.

If You Would Make a Friend.
"The tactful man," says the Philosopher of Polly, "never addresses another by the title of 'mister' after he learns that the latter has been captain of a down-state militia company."

Chinese Sacred Number.
Five is the sacred number of the Chinese, who have five planets, five cardinal points, five virtues, five tastes, five musical tones, five ranks of nobility and five colors.

Special Occasions.
It is only when they are nominated for office that some men care whether anybody knows where they attend.—Washington Post.

Wasted.
A large amount of sympathy is bestowed upon people who are paralyzed with reason why they should be sympathized with.

Must Have Wife's Consent.
In Vienna it is necessary for a man to get his wife's consent before he may ascend in a balloon.

Life of Wild Olive Trees.
Wild olive trees live centuries in Turkey and there are some for which fully 1,400 years are claimed.

The Purposeless Man.
A man without a purpose in life is like a dog with no tail to wag.—Philadelphia Record.

The Great Healer.
Time, the common physician, will heal thee.—Phaliscus.

"Modern Store With Modern Methods."

This is true in every sense if one would only step inside of the two big stores of Punch & Graves, their first impression would be they were in some city store. Things are so conveniently arranged that it is only a pleasure for one to patronize such a progressive firm. Their full page ad. appears in this issue and is well worth your consideration.

Have you bought groceries from Skidmore & Derickson? On Saturday they began business at corner Queen and Locust. Phone 2.

DEATHS.

BURNS.—Miss Margaret Burns, aged about 35, died at her home on Leroy pike, near city, on Friday, September 11, 1908. The burial was at Springfield on Saturday. Burial service by Rev. E. E. Dawson.

The following is from the Camp-ton correspondent of the "Hazel Green Herald, Sept. 10: "A large crowd of Camp-ton citizens attended the funeral meeting at Holly Creek last Sunday. All report a good time, with plenty of dinner on the ground."

NICKELL.—W. Newton Nickell, of Ezel, Ky., died on Thursday, Sept. 10, 1908, with kidney trouble. He leaves a wife, one brother, Jno. Smith Nickell, of Ezel, and a sister, Mrs. Silas Maxey, of Bates county, Mo. He was a cousin of J. M. and Asa Pieratt, of this county. He was a popular and worthy citizen.

Fogg.—On Friday night, September 11, Mr. C. C. Fogg, of Covington, died after a week's sickness. The burial was on Sunday. His brother, Charles, attended from here. For many years the family lived in our city. His wife, three daughters and three sons, one of whom is Finley E. Fogg, Prison Commissioner, survive him. Deceased leaves six brothers and four sisters, all of whom are well and favorably known in our city.

Miss Fannie Wilson now invites the public to see her choice collection of Stylish Millinery. Opening Friday and Saturday of this week.

MARRIAGES.

BRANT-COCKRELL.

At Manitou, Col., Miss Ella Cockrell, formerly of this county, and daughter of Peter Cockrell, deceased, was married to Wm. J. Brant, of Manitou.

FRENCH-SMITH.

James French, a young business man of Mayfield, and Miss Clara Belle, daughter of Dar Smith, of Nicholas, formerly of this county, were married at Lexington on September 2.

In telling of the marriage of Shirley Mason to Miss Nellie Roe, on September 2, the Stamford (Neb.) Post says: "The bride was attired in white silk embroidered in wild roses, the little flower girl in pink and white. She is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Roe. Many old settlers of Stamford have known her from babyhood through all her development into womanhood. She is an active worker in the Christian Church of this place. An organist and singer she will be much missed in all the church services. The groom, whose stature is typical of his native state, came from Mt. Sterling, Ky. His stay among us has been a pleasure to all his associates, his sunny smile has the effect of brightening every company in which he shows his face. Our acquaintance with him justifies us in saying that he is a genial and industrious young man."

SOCIAL EVENTS.

On Wednesday evening, September 9, in Trimble's Hall, Mrs. Jno. S. Williams and Mrs. R. G. Stoner entertained with a ball in honor of Miss Elizabeth Rogers. The decorations were artistic and numerous in streamers, potted plants and flowers. Saxton's Orchestra was present and discoursed sweet music for the dancers. There were about 125 guests, and all pronounced the event as one of the most conspicuous of the season. Brick ices and cakes were served. Cornucopia souvenirs were given to the guests. Mrs. Williams wore a white satin Empire gown; Mrs. Stoner was attractive in a white Satin Princess. In receiving they were assisted by Miss Rogers, Mesdames Reid Rogers, Wm. Reid, Lewis Apperson, Mary Lockridge, the Misses Apperson, the Misses Gumbrecht, Miss Anna Thomson and Col. A. W. Hamilton.

On Friday afternoon at Owingsville Mrs. E. H. Goodpaster entertained with a porch party in honor of Mrs. Wm. Reid, of New York, who, with the Misses Gumbrecht, of New York, is visiting here. The Mt. Sterling guests were: Mesdames William Reid, of New York; the guest of honor; Henry Prewitt, Charles Grubbs, George Snyder, Alice Turner, Fannie Goodpaster, R. A. Chiles, Charles Nesbitt; Carroll Hamilton, James Kennedy, Harry Hoffman, Charles Lindsay, Thos. Kennedy, Henry Reid, and Misses Louis Hoffman, Fenton Bigstaff, Mamie Turner, the Misses Gumbrecht, and Walker Reid. The game played was euchre. The first prize, a handsome art glass bon dish, inlaid with gold berries, was won by Miss Catherine Rice, and the guest prize, a handsome painted picture, was won by Mrs. William Reid, of New York City. The tally cards, in white and yellow, were hand painted.

Prof. Cord and Hopper have assumed heavy obligations in bringing to our city a series of high grade entertainments. They deserve liberal patronage. Get ready for October 5 and watch for each appearance.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee and other States testify to the merits of Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy and Bourbon Poultry Cure.

Read What People Who Have Used This Remedy Say:

Mrs. J. D. Cox, Happy Hollow Poultry Farm, Lawrenceburg, Ky., says: "I have the finest flock of Mammoth Bronze Turkeys in the State. They are Bourbon Poultry Cure twice a week, and it gives them a glossy, healthy look. I don't want to be without this medicine a single day. See my exhibit of Turkeys at the State Fair."

Mrs. Ellora Sonemaker, Glassford, Ill., says: "I have eight head of fine Bourbon Turkeys. My neighbors have lost all of theirs. They all raise Bourbon Turkeys and they say mine are better bred all the difference. I feed Bourbon Poultry Cure twice a week and tell them if they will use it they will have as good luck with their turkeys as I have with mine."

R. B. North, Druggist, Franklin, Tenn., says: "There is some Hog Cholera here and your Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy is working wonders. One man never lost a hog and another lost but one."

E. Franklin & Son, Gallatin, Tenn., says: "Please send us another case of Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy. We are hearing good reports from the Remedy sold all fall."

W. B. Broese, Spencer, Ohio, says: "I have used your Bourbon Poultry Cure with my chickens and turkeys (I raise forty varieties) and think it is the best remedy for cholera that I have ever used."

Wm. Manlove, Tipton, Ind., says: "I had cholera in my herd and did not lose a hog after giving them Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy."

My son used it with the same results. In my judgment this medicine is a sure cure for hog cholera."

Mrs. W. W. Kalston, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "I have been raising chickens for nearly fifty years and Bourbon Poultry Cure is the most satisfactory remedy I have ever used for chicken cholera and gapes."

J. C. Fell, Lakeland, Mo., breeder of Registered Duroc Jersey Hogs, says: "We have been giving your Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy to our hogs and it has been a sure worm exterminator."

Fremont Bennett, Moline, Ind., says: "I used two other remedies and lost twenty-six out of eighty-five hogs. I then used Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy and it cured my hogs."

Mrs. D. A. Brooks, Sturgis, Ky., says: "I have been using your Bourbon Poultry Cure and I think it fine. If you will increase the price I will keep it in stock. I will recommend it. I am an old time chicken raiser, and so many people come to me for pointers on poultry."

H. E. Samuel, Duggist, Harrodsburg, Ky., says: "Please find enclosed check for which send me another case of Bourbon Poultry Cure. This is certainly a good remedy, and every bottle I have sold has been highly praised. I am truly grateful to find a remedy that is so reliable."

ATHLETIC INSTRUCTOR

Former Lexington Minister in Hopkinsville.

The Rev. C. H. Branch, who was pastor of the Maxwell street Presbyterian Church in Lexington, has been selected by the trustees of Hopkinsville public schools as athletic instructor at Hopkinsville.

When he arrived in Lexington some years ago to assume his duties as pastor, the town was agog over a big football game to be played next day, and the management of the teams were casting about for an umpire. Some one suggested the new pastor, and he consented to officiate. From the moment the ball was put in play he showed that he knew the game. At Hopkinsville he will have charge of the football and other athletic training.

BURGLAR

Enters Clay Turner's Home, But Is Frightened Away.

The porch climber and sneak thief are getting in their work in Lexington.

Monday morning at 3 o'clock, September 7, a burglar entered the residence of H. Clay Turner at Elmsmore Park, but was frightened away.

Mrs. Turner, happened to be up on account of one of the children being sick with diphtheria and heard the footsteps of the intruder when he entered the hall through a rear window. She called to Mr. Turner and also to next-door neighbor, and James Haley, the special night policeman who stays in Elmsmore Park, answered. He said he had heard the man as he went up the lattice and crossed the tin roof of the porch before he entered the hall.

The officer was then at the rear of the house expecting the porch climber to attempt to escape by the same way he entered, but he was evidently thought he would go him one better so he slipped down and turned the night latch of the front door from the inside and was gone even while his would be captors thought they had him cornered.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an east-bound O. R. & N. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said: "There is a woman sick unto death in the car." I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a death like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." ADVICE FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE.

Exercise by Which System is Refreshed and Invigorated.

For relaxing tense nerves there is nothing like a tonic bath and this special relaxing exercise. The bath is quite simple—nothing but alternate sprays of hot and cold water, given for from five to ten minutes. This is possible for any one who can afford a rubber hose with a spray attachment, which fastens on to the nozzle of the hot and cold spigot. It usually costs about $1.00. Stand with the weight of the body on the left foot, the right foot raised on the floor a little in advance of it. Raise slowly the right arm to the level of the shoulder, then move arm in a circle from right to left and reverse. The left arm is then treated in the same manner, with the weight of body on right foot.

By exercise of this kind the nervous system is refreshed and invigorated. It is important in doing the movement that one forgets he has any muscles. In other words, the movement is to be quite involuntary.

REASONING OF CHILDISH MIND. Little One Thought She Recognized the Work of Papa.

A short time ago a surgeon had three leg amputations in a week. The unusual number caused talk in the surgeon's household, and his little daughter, Dorothy, was greatly interested. A few days after the last operation the surgeon's wife and little Dorothy were rummaging in the attic. In a trunk was found a daguerotype depicting a girl about eight years of age. The portrait, through a peculiarity of pose, showed only one leg of the subject, the other being doubled up under her.

"Whose picture is that, mamma?" asked Dorothy.

"Mine. It was taken when I was a child not much older than you are now."

"Did you know papa then?"

"No, dear. Why do you ask?"

"I thought maybe you did," "cause you've got only one leg." The Daguerotype.

Samos as a Birthplace. Sailing the "Pyros" from the Greek island under Turkish suzerainty, which has once more been the scene of trouble, is one of the few lucky regions on earth that have no national debt. It is also one of the few places in that part of the world at which Homer was not born. But as a birthplace of heroes, it ranks high. As the home of the first triremes it was the originator of sea power. Thence came the first bold Greek mariner, who sailed out through the Straits of Gibraltar into the Atlantic. Above all, it was the birthplace of Pythagoras, of whom Samos is very proud to this day. Its great college, the Pythagorean, is attended by pupils from Crete and other islands, and has been called by a Samian writer "a school of the gods, where its light ran wide in the Levant."

Awkward Language. Japanese "typo" have their troubles. K. Sugimura, library editor of the Tokyo Asahi Shimbun, says that he especially admires the "typo" error on earth that has no national debt. CHANGE

In Official Circles—A Whiskey Man Sidetracked.

Mr. James B. Brown, Democrat, was on Thursday elected President of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners in Louisville to succeed Mr. F. J. Herrmann, and the change is one that the city can well congratulate itself upon.

The Board now stands three Democrats and two Republicans. Within a month it will stand three Republicans and two Democrats.

The election of Mr. Brown is a move for the better in every way. The President of the Sinking Fund has primary supervision over the investments for the city of Louisville, and sits ex-officio upon the License Board, which passes upon saloon licenses.

Mr. Herrmann, the retiring President, is a wholesale liquor dealer. He had no experience in finance. Mr. Brown, the new President, is the cashier of one of the largest banks of Louisville. But in Mr. Brown in the place of Mr. Herrmann as a member of the License Board the change will be felt even in a greater degree. Mr. Brown has served as Tax Receiver and as Chairman of the Board of Works.

Mr. Herrmann is in the liquor business, and as a member of the License Board always leaned to the saloonkeeper. Mr. Brown is not in the liquor business, and the saloonkeeper who breaks the law need not expect mercy from the new President of the Sinking Fund.
